REQUIREMENTS MODIFIED

In a meeting at noon last Thursday, the Faculty Council unanimously voted on a proposal that will take effect next year. The change involves both the Theology and Philosophy Departments, and deals with the modification of requirements in these areas. According to this plan which was a long time in the deliberation stage, the 24 hour requirement in philosophy and theology will be reduced to 15, with a minimum of six hours in each and the remaining three hours to be chosen from either area. There will be no specific courses required within the total number. This decision was made after many meetings of the departments involved, the Academic Affairs Committee, and the Self-Study Committees.

In the discussion which preceded the voting Sister Marie Bernard proposed three statements for the Faculty Council to adopt as part of the rationale for this modification in general education requirements. They're as follows: 1) The Faculty Council, recognizing the student need for greater choice in their education, and yet desirous of promoting the most fundamental values in education, asks that a minimum of 15 hours in philosophy and theology be part of every student's program of studies. 2) The Council strongly recommends that the faculty in advising students, consider the total education of the individual and encourage electives in these areas. 3) This significant curricular change and subsequent similar changes, the rationale for these changes and the resulting implications be communicated to the college community in a general convocation.

In order that the rationale behind general education requirements be better understood, the Council members requested that a special meeting for faculty and students be held to discuss the matter. Therefore, the meeting originally scheduled for department chairmen on Thursday, April 27 at 12:30 has been changed to include all interested faculty and students. All are urged to attend in Room 251.

Kenyon Awards Open

Details for THE KENYON AWARDS FOR GENERAL SEMANTICS are now being announced to both educators and college and university students. THE KENYON AWARDS are awards for fresh observations, creative research, and original studies. The area of inquiry involves how uses of words, language and other symbols influence perception, thought, feelings, and human interaction and evaluations. (For more information on possible areas of research and study, please write the awards committee.)

THE KENYON AWARDS are open to all college and university students, graduate and undergraduate. Students entering the contest are limited to one paper and must have a sponsor (teachers, instructors, assistant and associate professors and full professors are eligible to serve as sponsors.) Papers must first be submitted to the sponsor, who will then forward the papers he selects to the awards committee. Each sponsor is limited to three student entries.

Papers should generally follow the American Psychological Association style and may be of any length beyond 4000 words; a one-page summary is to be included with each paper. No papers will be returned. Masters and Ph.D. theses are acceptable as entries. Submitted papers must be postmarked on or before June 30, 1973. All papers must have been previously unpublished, and must have been written between Dec. 1, 1971 and the deadline date.

The Awards Committee evaluates on the basis of originality of conception, significance of subject matter, and readability. Winning students and sponsors will be announced on Oct. 13, 1973.

Please address all correspondence to: Martha Kenyon, Chairman, ISGS Awards Committee, Box 2469, San Francisco, Ca. 94126.

PATTERNS OF HAPPINESS

This year's spring formal, 'Patterns of Happiness,' will be held this Saturday at the Columbia Club in the Circle from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight. Music will be provided by the Jey'dels from Indianapolis.

The Junior class promises a unique prom with everything from decorations to centerpieces handcrafted by the decoration committee headed by Julie Kistner. Other committee chairmen are: publications, Barb Meyer; refreshments, Peggy Lauer; Court, Nancy Miller; invitations, Sr. Stephanie and Carol Luthman.

The highlight of the evening will be the selection of prom queen from a court made up by previously selected juniors and seniors. The voting will take place at the dance. Prom court members are: Ginni Annee, Jean Grady, Becky Raibley, Susie Knueven, Nancy Miller, and Mary Stockrahm.

Jane Bruns Heads Volunteer Program

A Volunteer Program has newly been established on the Marian campus. Jane Bruns, a freshman from Greensburg, Indiana has been chosen as the co-ordinator. Her major is elementary education and she is a member and officer of MANASA. Linda Kolb is the staff advisor for the program here at Marian.

This type of volunteer program has been established on many college campuses throughout the U.S. The Consortium of Urban Education is assisting in establishing the Marian Volunteer Program. Butler, IU-PUI and ICC are organizing similar programs here in Indianapolis. The Volunteer Bureau in Indianapolis is the link with various community agencies and provides the program with job listings which require volunteers to assist.

The Student Volunteer Program has a list of projects and provides a calendar of events to keep project members informed of relevant activities. It also supplies resource materials such as books, periodicals and research data to provide volunteers with another perspective. The program tries to provide information for volunteers which relates to their past experience and their present goals and objectives. It identifies with the student's interests and heeds also those of the Indianapolis community.

The coordinator's office is located in the SAC lounge which is the center for this new program. Any interested student should fill out the interest form and return to Jane Bruns or Linda Kolb.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Congratulations to Cheryl Collier and Becky Powell who were elected to the two day student positions on Student Board.

Also, Jon Randall has been appointed darkroom manager for the next academic year. Dave Jongleaux has been selected as the editor for the 1972-73 school yearbook, the MARIAN.

Officers Elected Today

Class elections for the 1972-73 school year will be held today in front of Marian Hall Auditorium. The candidates for Senior class officers are: president, Carol Luthman; vice-president, Roger Branigan and Sherry Meyer; secretary, Marybeth Blankman and Sharon Bernhart; treasurer, Rita Blessing, Mike Mills, and Grace Maxwell; Student Board representative, Nancy Miller and John Costerisan; Day Student representative, Barb Campbell.

Possibilities for next year's Junior class leaders include: president, Jim Leugers and Joe Santosuosso; vice-president, Barb Moll; secretary, Helene Mullan; treasurer, Dan Ryan; Student Board representative, Jay Farrell; Day Student representative, Jon Randall.

The Freshman class will be able to select their officers from: president, Kathy Fox, Tom Sluss; vice-president, Tom Cebulko, Ingrid Augspols; secretary, Margie Bauer, Anne Larson; treasurer, Elisa Teany, Joe Kuzmitz; Student Board representative, Mary Hafeli, Mary Elmlinger.

STUDENT BOARD ON THE DEFENSIVE

Recently the Constitution of the MCSA was passed by a majority of students voting on the approval or disapproval of this document. Student Board this year has spent much time on that piece of legislature. In fact, some students seemed to think that maybe the time involved was relatively too much; a few of the ballots from the referendum concerning the Constitution remarked that it (the Constitution) was "too defensive." I must agree with this thought to a certain extent. And I feel that this has very much been the overtone of this year's Student Board.

I often felt that members of the Board were apprehensive that the faculty and/or administration were out "to get the student." This state of mind, of course, hampers constructive, progressive dealings that could be accomplished. It definately displays a lack of trust all over the place. This is where I think next year's Student Board should center its efforts. I see so much energy and desire in those students who have thus far been elected to the Board, but I also see an affluence of defensive thinking here.

Advancement has been made in various areas this year (donation to Theatre Dept., Guest Hours Policy, a possible change in Housing Policy, for example) as well as setbacks; yet I felt that much has been learned from both. Hopefully, next year's Student Board will be on the trail of positive and meaningful projects and concerns. Also, the 'politician's delight'—that the Student Association in general will become concerned and more active—is an ideal to strive for on the part of all!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

As the current academic year draws to a close it is time to begin preparation for next year. Students who are presently receiving financial aid and who plan to return to Marian in the fall should do the following:

1. Complete an application for Renewal of Financial Aid. This form is available in the Financial Aid Office.
2. File a 1972-73 Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS). Students receiving a Marian College scholarship or grant only, need not file a PCS since these awards are not based on financial need. Renewal of all other forms of aid requires the demonstration of financial need which is the purpose of the PCS.

The Financial Aid Office is aiming at a July 1 renewal date. However, conditions beyond local control, may delay renewal awards. For example, the Educational Opportunity Grant Program and the College Work-Study Program both expire June 30. New Congressional legislation will have to be enacted to continue these programs beyond that date. While the financial aid community nationally is confident that Congress will continue to support higher education by providing programs for student financial aid, legislation has been delayed because of election year activities.

Students who have a PCS on file before the end of the academic year may stop in the Financial Aid Office before leaving campus for the summer to discuss the amount of their need and probable aid. A renewal award will not be made until the renewal application has been submitted; there-

Law Day, USA, is traditionally celebrated May 1. The Indianapolis Bar Association is planning a Public Naturalization Ceremony. Honorees will be the applicants of United States citizenship (numbering about 100). The Honorable James E. Noland, Judge of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Indiana, will preside. The Judiciary of the County, the Governor of the State of Indiana and the Mayor of Indianapolis have been invited. The general public as well as the civics, government and history classes of the Marion County high schools have also been invited. There is no admission charge. We ask your support to carry the message of citizenship and its responsibilities to the people of Marion County and urge the attendance of your members at this most important event. The Law Day ceremony will stress the need for cooperative effort in our society to renew our governmental institutions; to encourage a wider acceptance of the responsibility of citizenship and to strengthen the legal structure.

Spotlighting

John Jacobs came from Pittsburgh, from a deprived neighborhood. 'It was so deprived,' he stated, 'that people went to cemeteries for laughs; the housing was so bad that when they tore down houses they put up slums. But we had a lot of pride because when we went through the bread line we asked for toast.'

Besides coming from Pittsburgh, this Marian College senior, who played on the high school football team that won 68 consecutive games, received a football scholarship to Arizona State University. In his last year there he signed a professional contract with the Dallas Cowboys for two years, followed by a year with the Washington Redskins. Moving next to Chicago to play for two years with the Bears, Jacobs suffered two knee injuries. While in Chicago he coached a Mighty Might Football team—a team composed of boys each weighing under 125 lbs. (without uniform). It was also in this period of his life that he became interested in the field of mental health.

This one-time Dallas Cowboy came to Indianapolis as an assistant coach for the Indianapolis Capitols, in which capacity he remained for a year. He then was hired as a vocational counselor at Central State Hospital, where he has been for the past two years. He continues this work, and at the same time carries a full schedule at Marian.

When asked why he chose the field of mental health, Jacobs replied, 'It affords me the opportunity to deal with people and their behavior so that I can give them alternatives in changing their behavior.' With another semester of college work to complete before graduation, this sociology major would like to stay in mental health and go to graduate school in social work.

DRUG SCENE

On May 24, 1972, Dr. Dan Brown from the Dept. of Toxicology (Indiana University Medical School, Indpls., Ind.) lectured and led a discussion on 'What's the Drug Scene all About?'

A 1963 graduate of Marian, Dr. Brown discussed, along with audio visual aids, drugs in general. He lists ethyl alcohol as the most misused drug in the U.S. today.

Ending with the discussion on marijuana, he concluded that although marijuana has effects on the body, there are no proven harmful effects. He also gave descriptions of other types of drugs (amphetamines, barbituates, LSD, etc.) and the effects they have on the human body.

The event sponsored by the Marian College Drug Abuse Education Committee was well attended by Marian students and faculty.

MARIAN COEDS WIN POETRY AWARDS

The Indiana College English Association has announced the winners of its First Annual Poetry Awards. Two Marian students were among the winners.

Mary Elmlinger, a freshman, was awarded Third Prize for her poems, 'Winter Flowers,' 'Awakening,' and a third untitled poem. These will be presented in the upcoming issue of the Fioretti.

JOHN JACOBS

Comparing Marian to a big college campus, such as Arizona State, Jacobs favorably stated, 'Marian provides the opportunity for more interaction between the student and the instructor.'

During the past three years, the National Leadership Institute, in cooperation with the Humble Companies Foundation, has provided leadership training for thousands of students and faculty members of major colleges and universities throughout the United States. This year the Humble Companies Foundation sponsored the Great Lakes Institute on the weekend of April 21-23.

Approximately 125 representatives of major colleges and universities from Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin were invited to attend this Institute. Scholarships were awarded by the Humble Companies Foundation to provide for registration fees as well as all room and board charges and leadership training expenses.

The course of instruction covered advanced leadership techniques based on the practical application of proven industrial management techniques. It was designed for 15 hours of intensive instruction in the concepts of leadership style, communications skills and inter-personal perception.

TENNIS

After an impressive showing at Bellarmine on Tuesday, the Marian College tennis team found the going rough later in the week and were blanked in successive outings at Butler and Rose Hulman.

The youthful Knights, improving every time out, came through with their top effort of the young season against Bellarmine but still couldn't match the netters from Louisville and fell 7-2.

Dave Martini captured his singles match for the blue and gold for one of the points and the other was scored by the doubles team of Coyt Walters and Herb Finke.

Playing back to back meets away against such large schools as Butler and Rose Hulman, the young Knights gave it their all but could not match the larger schools' firepower.

TURMOIL

There is a paying job in Europe available to any college student willing to work. Most of the jobs are in resorts, hotels, restaurants, factories, offices and shops in Switzerland, France, Germany, England, Italy and Spain. Standard wages are always paid and free room and board are usually provided.

Student Overseas Services, a Luxembourg student organization, will obtain the job, work permit, visa, and any other necessary working papers for any college student who applies. SOS also provides a brief European and job orientation in the organization's 100-room castle before you go to your job. All of this means that a few weeks at a paying job in Europe will more than cover the cost of the new $270 Youth Fare flight ticket from the U.S. to Europe and return.

Following are jobs currently available. Interested students should write immediately so SOS will have ample time to obtain not only the job, but also the necessary work permit. Most European countries now require (as does the USA) that you have the job AND work permit before entering the country.

SUMMER WORK ABROAD

SWITZERLAND - Hotel, restaurant, resort, hospital, and farm jobs are available. Room and board are always provided free in addition to wages and tips. Wages for these jobs range from $120 to $240 per month. In addition to clean air and unpolluted lakes Switzerland offers an excellent central location in Europe.

FRANCE - Factory jobs available during the summer. Good wages, relatively short hours and shift work allows time off to visit Paris, Amsterdam and other nearby cities. Grape picking work available during late summer months in wine regions. Free room and board, wages, and free wine are provided. Some child care work available through out the year, camp counseling available during the summer months. Other jobs available to students having some knowledge of French.

Marian-Indiana Central Alumni To Sponser Tour To Hawaii

The Alumni Associations of Marian and Indiana Central Colleges have announced the joint-sponsorship of a "Week - in - Hawaii" from July 22 to 29.

On Thursday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Marian College Library they will present a preview of plans for the week of fun in the sun. Anyone interested in joining the tour is welcome to join the group on April 27 to learn specific details of the tour, including clothes, climate and other concerns of the interested traveler.

The first class trip, at an economy price, offers round-trip jet air-fare via a scheduled commercial airline, 7 days and 6 nights at a beachfront hotel, plus four tours of the city of Honolulu and the Island of Oahu. The price is $359.00 per person, double occupancy, from Indianapolis.

GERMANY - Hotel, restaurant, resort, factory, farm, hospital, forestry and construction jobs available throughout the year. Good wages, and free room and board provided with most jobs. Allow several weeks for SOS to get your work permit and other necessary papers.

Interested students may obtain the SOS Handbook on earning a trip to Europe which includes the initial job application form, job listings and descriptions, and a breakdown of the brief job orientation in Europe by sending their name, address, educational institution and $1 (for addressing, handling and postage) to SOS - Student Overseas Services, Box 5173, Santa Barbara, California 93108. Applications should be submitted early enough to allow SOS ample time to obtain the work permits and other necessary working papers.

The trip is open to alumni, students, parents and friends of the sponsoring colleges and will afford all an opportunity to travel with college friends while making new friends from another institution.

KNIGHTS SPLIT WITH CENTRAL

The Marian College baseballers, off to their finest start ever, raised their record to 12-3 as they split a pair with bitter rival Indiana Central. This gave the Knights a 3-1 edge over the cross-town Greyhounds on the year, a fact which is sure to please everyone here at Marian.

Coach Lynn Morrell, doing a masterful job in his first year as head mentor, has his lads razor sharp thus far and is keeping his fingers crossed the injury jinx that has plagued Marian all season is about to depart.

The Indiana Central game on Tuesday, played on the home field and in perfect weather, was attended by a large number of people, many of them choosing to pass up an afternoon in the classroom in order to cheer on the blue and gold and at the same time catch a few rays from the sun.

MARIAN 8
INDIANA CENTRAL 3

The locals struck paydirt in the first as they plated a run on Mike Eimer's walk, Ted Ahaus's single, and Kenny Tyrrell's line shot up the middle.

The blue and gold upped their margin to 2-0 in the third when Eimer doubled and scored on Tyrrell's second hit. But this was only a preview of things to come as the Knights erupted for three big tallies in the fourth to make it 5-0.

Rich Geaither singled to start the fireworks and went to second on Greg Pawlik's perfect sacrifice bunt. Dave Jongleaux singled on the next pitch to score Geaither, and after Eimer's second walk, both raced home when Ted Ahaus rocketed a triple to right center.

After Central tallied once in the fifth, Marian promptly retaliated in their half when with two out Geaither singled and rode home on Pawlik's long double to right.

Marian made it 8-1 in the sixth when Jongleaux was hit by a pitch, Eimer was safe on an error, and Ahaus was plunked in the arm by a well-placed fastball. This enabled Marian to load the bases and set the stage for Tyrrell's third hit, a line shot down the right field line, which scored both Jongleaux and Eimer and sent the large crowd into ecstasy

Indiana Central scored twice in the seventh but by then it was too late and the victory was recorded in the record books.

Ted Ahaus, performing on the mound, had Central eating out of his hand as he fed them a steady diet of smoking fast balls and sweeping curves. Ahaus, a Yorkville, Indiana native, picked up the win as he went the distance and struck out six while allowing only one walk.

Dan Hayden, filling in at short while Ahaus was pitching, did a great job with two spectacular plays that staved off any illusions Indiana Central had of rallying.

MARIAN 2
After Indiana Central grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first, Marian tied it up in the third when John Jones walked, went to third on a wild pick off throw, and scored on a wild pitch.

But Central scored 3 more in the fourth to make it 4-1 before Marian got going in the fifth. Jones walked again and Al Karason poked a single into right field to bring the crowd to life.

Jongleaux steals again!

Mike Eimer walked to load the sacks and Paul Norman did likewise to force in a run, but the rally died short and left the score 4-2.

Trailing now 6-2 going into the bottom of the seventh, Marian pulled out all stops as they loaded the bases with two down. Pinch runner Hank 'Speed' Ahaus was inserted in the line-up at this point, but was left stranded on Tyrrell's line shot to second. Ahaus, a crowd favorite, commented after the game that he was very pleased with the crowds' response to his appearance and hopes to please them many more times during the year.

Al Karason, who hurled six innings and took the loss, struck out six but was a bit wild and walked four. Karason however, proved that he was not as big a slouch at the plate as everyone thought as he pounded out the Knights' only hit. Needless to say, this event caused a mild sensation.

Mark Simko, looking stronger each time out, finished up the seventh and did a fantastic job.

GOLFERS IMPROVING

After falling to Indiana Central by a mere 10 strokes on Tuesday, Coach Roy Pilles links-men placed second in a triangular meet held with Butler and the other Marion at the soggy Coffin Golf Course on Thursday.

At Indiana Central, team captain Mike Pacheco fired a 78, Joe Kuzmitz a 79, Tom Ewald and Al Dorko 81's, and Mike Isban an 82 as the well rounded squad came through with a fine effort despite losing.

Although finishing well behind Butler, this Marian crushed the other Marion by a large margin as Tom Ewald blazed a 78, Pacheco a 79, Blank an 80, Dorko and Kuzmitz 85's and Isban an 86 to lead the blue and gold of Cold Spring Road.

Traveling to St. Joseph's on Saturday, the Knights had to battle a foreign course and the elements of wind and rain. Ewald, Pacheco and Kuzmitz recorded 82's, Al Dorko, the surprise of the team thus far, had an 89, and Tom Blank shot a 96.
